Afterword. By Lorena Mirambell and Joaquín Arroyo-Cabrales	on the back cover

(*) This is the official logo under which the “Pleistocene Hunters of the Northern Highlands Archaeological Project” (PACPAN, by its initials in Spanish) performed explorations in northern Zacatecas, Mexico, between years 2009 and 2021. The Chiquihuite Cave site was discovered and studied as part of that project. The logo was created by C.F. Ardelean, in part inspired by different Late Holocene rock art manifestations in the area of study. In this catalogue, it appears inserted as watermarks or at the end of each chapter, separating taxonomic units.
